

All sample vessel orders from now on will include a number of tracking labels. The tracking labels are not client specific. With the help of these labels, you can track whether your package has been received, through the ALS website. The labels can be used for all kind of packages and letters, for all different transportations.

PACKAGE TRACKING

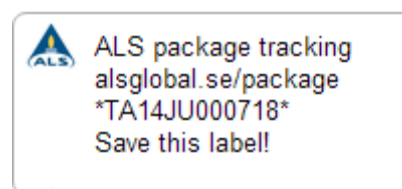

When you order sample vessels on-line, there is the option to create your own personal tracking labels. With the personal labels there is no need to search the ALS website, when the packages have arrived you will receive an E-mail.

The E-mail address used to announce the arrival of your packages will be the one appointed when you make your order of sample vessels. If you log in at our website (<http://www.alsglobal.se/en/login>) you have the option to set how often these e-mails will arrive. Once every third hour is set as the default.

The barcode should be placed clearly visible next to the waybill. Be sure not to cover anything important with the label!

The label marked "Save this label!" is saved by client in order to track the package through the website tracking manager.

Note that the announcement of your packages arrival does not necessarily mean that your samples have been registered. Registration will occur later.
